Pope Francis' October Prayer Intention

For a Shared Mission

We pray that the Church continue to sustain in all ways a Synodal lifestyle, as a sign of co-responsibility, promoting the participation, the communion and the mission shared among priests, religious and lay people.

*“The Eucharist is God’s response to the deepest hunger of the human heart.”
~Pope Francis*

“If we are to have peace on earth, our loyalties must become Ecumenical rather than sectional. Our loyalties must transcend our race, our tribe, our class, and our nation.” Martine Luther King Jr. (1967)

Love Without Measure...

In the days of the Old West long journeys were often accomplished by stagecoach. Much like the traveling today, those who secured the use of a stagecoach could buy different levels of tickets. They could travel first class or second class, or third class. But unlike traveling today, those levels of tickets did not indicate a different level of comfort, for all the people traveled in the same crowded and dusty coach together. The levels of tickets instead different levels of responsibility. It was impossible for the stagecoach to bring along a maintenance group or support staff. Therefore, if there was some problem, if a wheel broke or the coach got stuck in the mud, it was up to the people who were on the coach to resolve it. Here is where the level of tickets came in. If you had a first-class ticket, you could remain seated in the coach as other people dealt with the problem. If you had a second-class ticket you had to leave your seat to lighten the coach, but still, you did not need to contribute any personal effort. If, however, you had a third-class ticket not only did you need to leave your seat, but you had to remove your coat, plant your feet in the mud, and push to get the coach out of the ditch. Those who had third-class tickets had to get involved. They could not stand back, they could not watch stand back, as others did the work.

In today's gospel Jesus tells us that those of us who wish to travel with him all travel on third-class tickets. Those who wish to be his disciples are expected to become involved. When there is some problem in the movement of the kingdom, those who are riding along cannot sit back and watch. Jesus says, "Whoever wishes to be great, must become the servant of all." Now clearly you and I know the commitment. We understand that following Jesus involves service, and I think all of us do serve. We serve in our families; we serve by going out of our way to help our friends. We serve by getting involved in different ways within our community. I suppose we could approach this command of Jesus with the attitude, "We have heard and followed that command already." In a certain sense we have. But I suggest to you that the command of Christ goes deeper than we regularly consider it to go. I think when Jesus says, "We must become the servant of all." He intends that we take the command literally. Christians are called to serve not only those who are close to us; not only those we like; not only those we like serving, but indeed anyone who is in need. Whenever we discern some problem of power and justice, in our world, we are not free to say, say "That is not my problem." The journey we are on with Jesus involves the entire world and everyone in it. Therefore, the problems and the issues of our world are our problems.

Tomorrow, October 21, we celebrate the feast of Saint Gaspar del Bufalo, founder of the Missionaries of the Precious Blood. Gaspar was known to walk into problems and crisis when others would run away. He took today's gospel seriously and gave his life as he died of cholera while serving others dying from the same disease during a tragic cholera epidemic throughout Italy and western Europe in the mid 1800's.

One practical invitation from today's reflection is important. I am sure that many may be tempted not to vote in this year's elections on November 5 due to the polarizing spirit that our politics has taken for several years. Citizens have a responsibility to vote. Please live up to your responsibility and vote on Tuesday,

November 5 or before. It is my personal judgment that one gives up their right to criticize if they do not vote.

Fr. Bill

Bible Study on Prayer

Pope Francis has asked us to pray for the Synod of Bishops that will be meeting in Rome in October. This study will go through October as we pray for the Bishops.

Pat Takacs continues to lead a weekly interpreted study sessions on Thursday nights from 6:30 pm until 8 pm with light snacks provided.

The Catholic site, Formed, led by Theologian Tim Gray, PhD, will be our guide in different forms of prayer. God's Word promises us that He inhabits the prayers and praise of His people. We are a people committed to seek God in prayer.

If you cannot make all of the sessions, please don't let that stop you from signing up. A study guide will be provided that can keep you participating even if you cannot make all the sessions. The last Bible Study taught us a great deal about the Eucharist. This study will teach us much about prayer.

Hope to see you there!

Dear friends in Christ,

No matter what country we live in, language we speak, or culture we identify with, Catholics around the world celebrate the Mass in the same way. Part of that unity in prayer is the meaning of the spoken words and part of that unity is shown through our actions and posture. While customs might vary from diocese to diocese, one of the strengths of our faith is this visible sign of unity.

Here at St. Augustine at the 10:00 Mass, the congregation had the practice of sitting during times when other churches would stand. This was a change made years ago due to crowded conditions in the church. It was decided that sitting was necessary for members of the deaf community to see the sign language. When the 12:30 and 10:00 Masses combined into the 11:00 Mass several years ago, there was confusion as to when the congregation should sit or stand. This has become more noticeable as more visitors come to our church. The liturgy committee, made up of volunteers representing both the hearing and deaf communities and all 3 weekend Masses, sought to address this problem over the last year.

We looked into the history of the practice here at St. Augustine and compared it to what was done in other parishes serving the deaf community. We asked the deaf members of the committee whether or not they believed sitting was still appropriate and necessary to see the sign language. Unanimously, the members of the deaf community stated that they saw no reason to continue sitting during those times. Taking this into account, we suggested various options for when to sit and stand. In the end, we decided that the simplest and most appropriate solution would be to return to sitting and standing at the normal times. This decision was made after over a year of discussion, consultation, and investigation of options. Members of the deaf community and deaf advocates were involved in every step of the decision making process. Also, please remember that if you are unable to stand or kneel during the Mass due to physical impairments, you may always remain sitting.

If you have further questions about this change, or if you have another liturgical issue that should be addressed, please do not hesitate to reach out to me, Aaron Calton, to express your concerns. Finally, anyone interested in joining the Liturgy committee is invited to attend our meetings which are held the first Monday of the month at 6:30 in the deaf center.

Peace be with you all,

Aaron Calton and the Liturgy Committee
